Chartered Management Institute, United Kingdom

The Chartered Management Institute (CMI) works with business and education to inspire people to become skilled, confident and successful managers and leaders. Established in 1947, as the British Institute of Management, CMI was founded in the wake of the Second World War to help rebuild British industry. CMI's goal remains the same today as it was then: to raise the quality and standard of management in the workplace.

In 2002, Her Majesty's Privy Council granted Royal Charter, designating CMI as the standard-bearer for the profession of management, meaning CMI is the only organisation able to award Chartered status.
